A VITAL QUESTION

A question that those in authority will do well to consider is: Is the government in army and navy and other departments doing as much conserving as the public is being asked to do.

MEN FOR OUR CARGO SHIPS

In helping our country shoulder its war load it is well for each of us to keep steadily in mind the importance of ships and seamen in what we have to do. Our ability to bear the burden of the war has put on us the need of ships. With them we may continue to send our men to France, there to fight for liberty; we may continue to send our allies the war materials that we have and they have not; we may continue to carry on the trade that keeps our factories going and our homes from want.

The world tries "ships, ships and more ships."

This does not mean warships, for there is a good supply of them, built or building—far more than Germany can ever hope to put afloat, and yet enough to smash her present fleets should they dare to come out of their harbors.

The ships we need most are plain cargo ships—the kind that bring to the sugar for our tables, wool to cover our backs, leather with which we are shod, to say nothing of the raw materials without which our munition factories could not work.

These are the ships that are to make up our new Merchant Marine, for which the United States Shipping Board is now recruiting men in every section of the country. The men are needed as much as the ships, for as vessels of the great new fleets of the Merchant Marine take the seas, crews must be on hand, trained and equipped to man them.

Ford PRICES

FOR THE PRESENT REMAIN UNCHANGED

Considering the current buying power of the American Dollar, this virtually represents a price reduction of at least $50.00.

All orders are taken with this significant clause:

"If retail price of car is increased before delivery, purchaser may at his option pay such increase or have his deposit returned and order cancelled."

PRICES

The papers in this syndicate are Hull East Wind, Hingham Herald, Cohasset Citizen, Scituate Sentinel, Marshfield Gazette.

Therefore we should honor the young man who is inclined to serve in the Merchant Marine. He is doing his part in the war where his service will count for as much as if he were going to the firing line.

RED CROSS NEEDS NURSES

The most vital necessity of the American Red Cross at the present time is nurses.

Trained nurses are needed for the home cantonments and the hospitals in France. And it is also important that a reserve organization should be effected at once.

New England is expected to furnish 2500 trained nurses for Red Cross work. Nearly all the New Hospitals have enlarged their schools for the training of nurses for war emergencies.

The duty of the nurse is as important to the boy at the front as that of the physician, and it is one of the highest forms of patriotic service to which the young women of New England can dedicate themselves at this time.

Miss Elizabeth Ross, in charge of the Bureau of Nursing Service, New England Division, American Red Cross, 755 Bay State street, will give all information to those who desire to register.

HULL BOY SCOUTS

The Boy Scouts have promptly received their weekly distribution as their first dispatch-bearing service copies of the President's Flag Day address, published by the Committee in pamphlet form on Sept. 15, 1917, and regarded as the most comprehensive statement that has been issued by the government in regard to the fundamental issues of the war.

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT

There will be a business meeting of the Hull Branch, Special Aid Society, at the Damon School, Nantasket, on Tuesday, Jan. 29, at 2 o'clock p. m. Some important business will be considered, and officers appointed. Members from all the units in town are earnestly requested to be present. A meeting of the whole society is called.

Mrs. J. E. Campbell, Chairman.

The Proper Attitude

The proper attitude of a man toward woman is not a very complicated affair. The fellow who admires her if she's beautiful, respects her if she works, has sympathy for her if she is in distress, and pities her if she stumbles in a fair way to become a gentleman. —Houston Post.

THE FEDERAL INCOME TAX

Returns Must Be Filed on or Before March 1

REVENUE MEN HELPING OUT

Between 250,000 and 400,000 people of Massachusetts in all walks of life are required to file Federal Income Tax returns for the year 1917. Children and residents in every section of the state are now affected by the Federal Income Tax laws, from wage-earners and small storekeepers to the multi-millionaire.

Although many thousands of people who have never before filed Federal returns are this year required to do so, there is a closer co-operation between the Government and the people in making the regulations clearly understood.

The Internal Revenue Office at Boston has sent out one hundred of its trained deputies to assist the people in understanding their obligations and in preparing the required personal returns. These deputies have headquarters in the leading industrial centers and are radiating into the surrounding towns and farming districts.

It is the earnest intention of John F. Malley, Collector of Internal Revenue for Massachusetts to bring every facility of his office to the aid of citizens and residents, so that the number of delinquents who fail to fulfill the obligation imposed by the law will be a small minority.

Collector Malley points out the following vital facts in connection with the Federal Income Tax for 1917:

WHO MUST FILE?

Every unmarried person whose net income was $1000 or over.

Every married person living apart from wife (or husband), whose net income was $1000 or over.

Every married person living with wife (or husband), whose net income, including that of wife (or husband) and minor children, was $1000 or over.

Net income of an individual is total income less certain expenditures, named in the law. In computing the tax there is a personal exemption of $1000 to an unmarried person; $2000 to a married person, or to a single person, who actually supports one or more dependent relatives. A parent is allowed $200 extra exemption for each child under 18.

There are only two divisions of people in Massachusetts who are relieved from the obligation to file income tax returns for 1917.

First:—A person who received net income below the amount specified in the law as requiring a return from an individual in his status as a married or unmarried person.

Second:—The officials and employees of a state, county, city or town, who did not receive, aside from salary or wages from such sources, taxable income to the amount specified in the law.

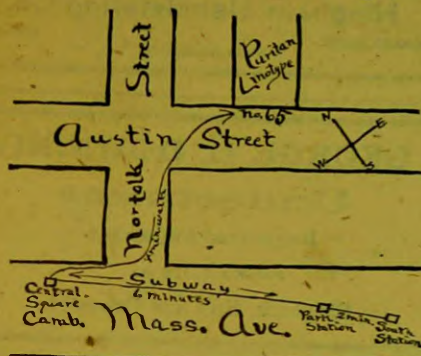

Collector Malley has particularly pointed out that a return of net income may be required even though a tax is not due the Government. In other words, he says "the filing of returns is mandatory, a special provision of the income tax law." Any tax due the Government is computed on such a return. The prime necessity for the resident of Massachusetts at this time is that he prepare and file with Collector Malley or one of his deputies an accurate return for 1917, on or before March 1, if his income reached the amounts named in the law.

If a person's net income for 1917 was below $2000, he should file his return on Form 1040A. Blanks of this form may be secured from John F. Malley, Collector of Internal Revenue, Boston, or from any of his deputies who are traveling through the state. Postmasters and the press are in close touch with the operations of these men, and can furnish information as to when these men can be reached for blanks and for free advice in the preparation of returns.

Every precaution has been taken against liability of fraud. The Internal Revenue deputies give their services free of charge, and are not allowed to accept cash. Checks or money orders in payment of tax due can be accepted by them, and in fact it is suggested that when returns are filed it is often more convenient for the taxpayer to attach them and there a check or money order, thus avoiding the necessity for future annoyance or possible inconvenience or oversight in making payment of the tax due.

There are severe penalties provided by the Federal Income Tax law in case of negligence or evasion of the duty of filing returns that are required. There is a penalty of from $20 to $1000 for failure to file return within the period prescribed by law, that is on or before March 1st.

There is also a penalty of 50% added to any tax due the Government on the delinquent return.

A person who makes a false or fraudulent return is subject to a fine of $2000 and a year's imprisonment; and he must pay double the tax which he has evaded.

DID NOT FALL IN

Mr. Robert Bryanton wants to assure the reporters of the Boston Post and other papers that he has lived in Hull too long to be foolish enough to try to cross Hull Gut on the ice. He has been familiar with both horses and autos for several years and would not attempt to drive either over water flowing as swiftly as does that in Hull Gut. He has made the trip successfully to and from Hunkin Island by auto and team over the frozen bay and hasn't had an accident yet. He is not a garbage collector, but does teaming and jobbing and is conserving by owning a few pigs.

SCITUATE WOMAN'S CLUB

The Club House, Tuesday, P. M., Jan. 22.

Mrs. Edith Bonney gave an interesting report of the Food Conservation Conference held at Hingham, Sat., Jan. 19.

Mrs. Ella W. Cooke, chairman of the Legislative Dept., reported on the National Prohibition Bill.

The club voted unanimously to endorse the bill.

Miss Law, of Boston, who was to have given an illustrated lecture on the silk industry for the sociology dept., was unable to be present.

The Pres., with the approval of the dept., arranged for a Legislative Afternoon.

Mrs. Eugene L. Webber, of Braintree, gave a talk on the six bills coming before the Legislature this year, of interest to women, and endorsed by the National and State Federations, with the exception of the Stevens bill, which the club opposes.

Walter Haynes, State Representative from this district, spoke on the bill continuing $10 a month state aid to soldiers and sailors during the war. It would cost the state $12,000,000 to continue the aid. Mr. Haynes touched on the bill for the appropriation of $50,444 for the "Tricentenary" Celebration at Plymouth in 1920, which comes up again this year. He is considering bringing before the Water-Ways Committee a bill to have some action taken on preserving the Third Cliff, which is being worn away very fast by the tide.

Mrs. Thompson played two violin solos, which were much enjoyed, accompanied by Mrs. Annis M. Wade.

Beatrice Forbes-Robinson Hale will talk on "Woman's Work in the War," at Scituate Woman's Club House, Tuesday P. M., Jan. 29, at 2:15 o'clock. Admission 25 cents.

Mrs. Hale volunteered to speak without compensation. It is hoped that members and friends will attend, making it possible to add a good sum to the treasury.

Mrs. Alice Hall and Mrs. Mabel Damm will be hostesses in Feb.

Adjourned to Feb. 12.

MRS. STANLEY C. LARY

An Appreciation

Rarely are the feelings of an entire community deeply stirred with sympathy and a sense of personal loss as in the passing from us of Mrs. Stanley C. Lary. In fourteen years of life, a woman of such high character and limited to no social barriers, had been a splendid model of modern womanhood. Her life was a life of service, of self-sacrifice, of devotion to the welfare of others.

Unlike many modern American women she did not spend her energies at once over many different interests, doing many things poorly, but she gave earnestly her best efforts at one time where she felt she could be most helpful. An original thinker, she had worked out successfully in her own home many of the modern problems of conservation in advance of the experts, and by her wise management was able to give generously of her time and strength for the uplift of the community. For her homemaking was a science worthy of the best thought and effort of womanhood and it was in her devotion to her family that she found her chief joy and pride. Her life should be counted not in years but in the thought of "the most lives."

Who thinks most, feels the noblest, acts the best."

Cohasset is richer for her life among us and distinctly poorer in her loss.

Quiet in Color, Simple in Design

Since it is expected that the every-day serviceable dress of today, will be quiet as to color and simple in construction, great demands are made upon the ingenuity of designers. Their cleverness must come to the rescue—to redeem frocks from somberness and lift them out of the commonplace. In the face of these restrictions, they have done wonders with the means at hand. We are more charmed with their original ways of doing things than with any of their past achievements. They have thought out ways of combining black with gray or beige or any neutral color, that more than reconcile us to the absence of bright color. Other dark colors are managed with the same cleverness.

The dark blue, one-piece frock shown in the picture is a fine example of good designing. Imagine it in velours or duvetyne with gray duvetyne providing the needed contrast. A band of the gray set in about the neck makes place for a cut-out applique in blue. The front of the bodice is edged below the waistline and two large disks of the gray cloth find the best of positions on it. The same odd applique is stitched to them.

The frock is plaited across the front in the skirt portion and where it joins the bodice, small disks of the gray cloth answer to the roll call of the plaits. There is a belt of the blue material, which is fastened to the front of the bodice at each side with a large flat bone button.

A band of blue, piped with gray is wrapped about the sleeve at the wrist. It is wide at one end and narrow at the other, the narrow end rounded and overlapping the other, is fastened down with a button. This is a very simple finish for the sleeves, but no one seems to have thought of it before.

Considering that the designer made such a success of this use of gray with blue he was justified in adding a soft cape collar of gray crepe georgette, although the frock would still be a success without it.

The Last Hats of Winter

The last hats of winter, like autumn leaves, herald their departure by becoming more brilliant than at any other time of the year. They abdicate in favor of spring millinery much earlier in the year than they used to; for Fashion takes to satin or even straw hats before the snow is off the ground. Anything that looks like spring makes a strong appeal in the lands of long winters, and furthermore, Northern tourists' hats, displayed in Northern shops, lure women into being illogical. And there is no particularly good reason why a flower hat, or a hat of malline, should not be worn in midwinter.

Two of the hats in the group above are of velvet and the third is of satin. At the center, a high, soft crown and a wide brim, with easy, flowing hues, make a lovely variation of this always pleasing picture hat. A handsome ostrich feather proclaims the return of the plume to the best of places for it. This hat is essentially beautiful; it can never look out of date.

A hat with narrow brim and round crown, shown at the left of the group, is another becoming shape that is always good style. It is gay, with a spray of brilliant flowers, the black velvet of the hat serving as a wonderful foil for their color and sheen. The hat at the right is the most popular of small shapes, and is made in dark, brilliant straw braids, as well as in satin and velvet. Its first purpose is to be becoming and its other reason for existence is the support of the gorgeous garniture of black satin ribbon, brocaded with gold, which covers the top of the hat. The ribbon is arranged in a bow with two loops at the front.

It is noteworthy that each of these hats depends upon a single trimming feature for its adornment, and that they bespeak variety in new millinery. One carries a plume, one a flower, and one contrives its magnificence with ribbon. Hats are worn far down over the eyes this winter, and cont' collars far up about the face. Just about all that is to be seen of the face is a pair of eyes, when milady cuddles down into her fur collar.

New Blouses in Simple Fabrics.
In the newest assortment of blouses are some from Paris which indicate a marked preference for fine materials and simple lines. They have special reference to their affiliation with suits; although several of them are so constructed that they may be worn as gumpies with the sleeveless frock of satin or of serge.

There are models made of handkerchief linen whose only trimming is in hand fagoting; others are delicately trimmed with drawn work or have insets of real flet lace. The new high collar is featured, although in deference to the wishes of many American women. Paris has sent blouses that have the familiar V-neck with the sailor or round collar.

HUSBAND SAVES WIFE

From Suffering by Getting Her Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Pittsburgh, Pa.—"For many months I was not able to do my work owing to a weakness which caused backache and headaches. A friend called my attention to one of your newspaper advertisements and immediately my husband bought three bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for me. After taking two bottles I felt fine and my troubles caused by that weakness are a thing of the past. All women who suffer as I did should try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. JAS. ROHRBERG, 620 Knapp St., N. S., Pittsburgh, Pa.

Women who suffer from any form of weakness, as indicated by displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, backache, headaches, nervousness or "the blues," should accept Mrs. Rohrborg's suggestion and give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a thorough trial.

For over forty years this famous root and herb remedy has been correcting such ailments for the women of America.

ART STUDENT TELLS SECRET

Easy Method by Which He Secured Clean Shirt Without Incurring Bills for Laundry.

Harry Lachman, the young American painter, whose work has captivated both London and Paris, said in a Piccadilly restaurant:

"We American art students are so accustomed to privations while pursuing our studies that the privations of the trenches should be nothing to us. I know an art student who claims that he can always have a clean shirt without ever getting any washing done. As such a secret would be valuable to our young soldiers at the front, I looked the student up and asked him about it.

"Yes," he said, with no little pride, "it's quite true. I only own two shirts, yet I can always change to a clean one, and my laundry bill is zero. The scheme, you see, is this. You put on a shirt and wear it a week or two. Then you put on the other one and wear it three weeks, or till it's so dirty that the first one seems clean by comparison. You then go back to the first shirt, and so on indefinitely."

Yankee Miner Slips $2,000,000 in Platinum Past the Russ Perils.

American Pluck Provides Government With Precious Metal Required for Making Explosives—Express Companies Refuse Job.

San Francisco.—A fortune, for which kings of crookdom would have cheerfully risked their necks, has just been delivered to the government, after having been carried half way around the world like so much junk.

Sheer Yankee pluck turned the trick. It was transported from the Ural mountains, in Russia, to the United States by F. W. Draper, an American mining engineer, who turned 21,000 ounces over to the department of commerce.

The rare metal was carried in boxes, as Draper's luggage—a king's ransom at the mercy of every porter, baggage-man and longshoreman in Russia and Japan.

He Did the Incredible.

"I got it safely through," explained the engineer, "because I did the incredible. No one would believe a man had so little sense as to lug a few million around like that. To have treated those boxes as precious would have meant to lose them—and probably my life as well.

"It was just an interesting bit of practical psychology."

His wife and four-year-old son accompanied him.

On the railroads across lawless Russia and Siberia, under the nose of the irresponsible bolsheviks, and past thousands who would have cracked his head for a fraction of that wealth, Draper smuggled the precious dust.

Express companies had refused to take the risk at any premium.

"You'll never get it out of the country," they said. "Not with platinum worth almost its weight in diamonds."

"Well, there it is," he said, kicking some old boxes on the San Francisco pier.

"I've slept and eaten on those boxes for over a month. And when I wasn't sitting on 'em, my wife was. I've become quite accustomed to sleeping on a $2,000,000 pillow. And I want to say it was decidedly hard on my head."

"But while Mrs. Draper and I guarded the shipment carefully, we did it in a casual fashion that didn't arouse suspicion."

Wants Softest Bed in Town.

"Say," he added, "do you know where I can find the softest, softest feather bed in town?"

The 21,000 ounces of platinum, badly needed in the manufacture of explosives and for scientific and surgical purposes, was consigned to the secretary of commerce, who will supervise its distribution.

Draper, whose home is in Boston, has spent the last six years as consulting engineer to a number of the largest Russian mining companies in the Ural mountains.

He has been specially commended by the United States government for his courageous and highly valuable service to the nation.

LOST FOR NINETEEN YEARS

Box of First-Aid Material Made for Use in Spanish War Just Turns Up.

Burr Oak, Mich.—After being on the way 19 years, a box was received by Capt. Charles P. Wheeler sent him by express by his mother.

Captain Wheeler led a company of volunteers in the Spanish-American war in 1898, and while at Camp Alger, Don Loring, Va., his mother sent him a box weighing 70 pounds, containing first-aid material and medicine. Before the box arrived the company had moved to Cuba, and as the company moved so rapidly the box never caught up. On his return he tried to trace the box without success.

Last week the box arrived from Philadelphia, being sent by Col. R. H. Rolfe of the Quartermaster corps, it being presumably laid aside with other war material and finally brought to light.

The contents of the box were in good

CHANCE FOR FORTUNE

Fame Also to Man Who Cures Measles and Mumps.

Uncle Sam's Army and Navy Surgeons Dread Measles More Than Any Other Disease.

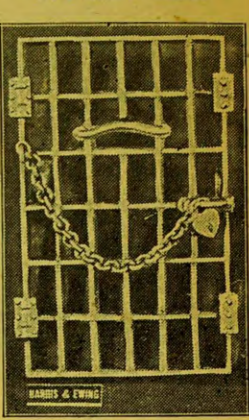

Washington.—Fame and fortune await the man who can trace to its source that periodical bugbear of the army and navy—the measles and mumps epidemic.

For some unknown reason, whenever troops are concentrated, either in large camps or on board ship, one of the first diseases to make its appearance is the measles, and this disease which most of us place in the category of childhood ill, is one of the most dreaded by army surgeons.

Symptoms of the disease appearing in any of the men is the signal for the immediate quarantining of the soldier's company and the barracks condition, and Captain Wheeler has turned over the box to the Three Rivers camp of the Spanish-American Veterans to be disposed of for the benefit of the Red Cross.

where he is located. Fumigation of the barracks then follows and every precaution is taken to prevent an epidemic.

An after-effect of measles, greatly feared by army surgeons, is the development of pneumonia, and it has been found that the fatalities among nature persons are much greater than with children. The pneumonia result has been more prevalent in the camps located in the southern states than in those of the North or West.

Generally speaking, surgeons look for mumps at about the time that measles appear, and are rarely disappointed. The fatalities through mumps do not begin to reach the number of those by measles, but the same rigid quarantine is observed in both cases.

For many years the best surgeons in the army have been working on theories that would eradicate the source of these diseases, but they have to admit that they are now no nearer a solution than ever before.

This is the season of the year that the epidemics usually start, and it would not be surprising to hear of the curanthluz of entire canton-

FOOD CARD FOR DOGS

French Canines Are Likely to Be "Hooverized."

Feeding Has Become Serious Problem—Great Shortage in Gasoline and Tobacco.

Paris.—The dog population of the republic has been living, fighting and suffering with the human population in resisting the German octopus, and is now about to be restricted by "cards" along with the humans.

The latest system to be announced is that, following the demands of the Agricultural Society of Moulins, the government is considering the introduction of a bread card for dogs, a card that will entitle dogs doing useful work for the country to their proportionate share of dog biscuit.

Since the first of the month another discommoding scheme has taken effect. No gasoline can be sold, even for domestic uses, such as lighting, heating or cooking. The government stated energetic measures had to be taken, in view of the fact that the stocks of gasoline were almost exhausted and it would be dangerous to permit them to become further depleted.

A ruler shock for the entire male population of France, which smokes almost to a man after reaching the age of twelve, came with the publication of the news that there was no more tobacco to be had. Imported English tobaccos are still to be obtained in limited quantities, but the price is prohibitive to the average Frenchman.

The reasons given for the tobacco shortage are the increased consumption by the soldiers in the trenches and the decreased production and importation, due to the lack of bottoms.

A good deal has been said about the establishment of a tobacco card, but the government has suggested that a system of voluntary rationing be first tried out. If this is unsuccessful nothing will remain but the addition of one more card to the rapidly growing list.

Pennsylvania Boy Gets Able Assistance in Landing 250-Pound Black Bear.

Warren, Pa.—Willie Hackenschmidt, fifteen, of Salmon creek, came to town the other day with a 250-pound black bear on his farm wagon.

"I couldn't have got him if it hadn't been for father's pigs," he explained. "I was out in the woods after rabbits when I heard one of the pigs squeal. I ran toward the sound and when I got to a big black bear had one of the pigs in its mouth."

The other pigs were crazy. They were playing the bear all over. He dropped the pig and started to run when he saw me, but the pigs held him until I could get close enough to give him both barrels."

Adv.

Mrs. Arthur Stanley of Hyde Park, wife of a former high school teacher of this town, was heard with great interest and appreciation at a talk given by her at the Benevolent Union meeting on Tuesday last week at the home of Mrs. O. H. Howe.

An item in a Boston daily states that Lewis A. Cressett, one of our summer residents and treasurer of the Boston Young Men's Christian Association, has given $5000 as the first subscription to the $100,000 campaign to be waged by that Association.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Roberts (nee Elsie Butman) of Newton Center are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter, Jan. 11.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Buffum have closed their home on S. Main street and will spend the rest of the winter in Boston.

Mr. Alfred Silva is confined to his home with illness resulting from a severe cold.

Blanche Noyes, wife of Stanley H. Noyes, passed away at her home on Jan. 16 after an illness of several months.

Prayers by Rev. William Cole of the Unitarian church were held at the home on Thursday afternoon at 3.30 p. m.

After which the body was taken to Lewiston, Me., where the funeral was held Saturday morning.

Interment was at Auburn, Me. She is survived by a husband and two sons.

Mrs. Irving Davis, who has been seriously ill at her home, is improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Antoine have returned to their home on Stockbridge street, after spending a part of the winter in Walpole, Mass.

The dancing class composed of girls in the high school is being very successfully conducted at the parish house each week.

Miss Dorothy Bolles of Boston instructs the class, and many new and attractive dances are being executed by her pupils.

Mrs. Frank Chase, an earnest worker in the Red Cross branch at Cohasset, is collecting all the solid gold and silver spoons, trinkets, flageolets, anything which people feel they can part with for the sake of raising money for Red Cross work and thus furthering our patriotic interests.

The articles must be solid gold or silver and will be turned over to the Metropolitan Red Cross Chapter of Boston for what is called a "melting pot," the articles to be melted down and converted into money.

Already Mrs. Chase has been given some beautiful things, out of style or have served their day and purpose.

This unique way of securing funds for the Red Cross work was first tried by the women in England, who secured over $1,000,000 for the war.

Information apply to Mrs. Frank Chase, Cohasset, or Miss Dorothy Bolles of the Metropolitan Chapter, Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Browne have removed to Boston for the remainder of the winter.

The keen and patriotic interest taken in the Red Cross work by the ladies of Cohasset is attested by the following kindly sent the C. C. by Mrs. L. M. Bosworth: "The ladies of Cohasset began work for the Red Cross in July, 1917."

Mrs. Matthew Luce, Jr., of Cohasset and Boston directed the summer and fall. She also furnished us with a good deal of material to work with.

During this time to Jan. 1, 1918, we have made 27 comforters, 100 comfort pillows, 36 fracture pillows, 14 t. bandages, 80 newspaper pads, 500 formentations, one pound cut gauze, 2500 eye dressings from old linen.

Through the kindness of the Cohasset Red Cross we have been furnished, and we have returned 24 sweaters, 59 scarfs, 25 pair wristlets, 42 pair socks.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Valine removed with their family to Boston for the winter.

Rev. H. K. Bartow has returned to his Y. M. C. A. work at Camp Devens.

Letters received from Bartlett Chalk, one of our fine young men who was announced to have been promoted until he is now at the officers' training camp at Camp Gordon, Atlanta, where he hopes to get a commission in three months.

John Black, a former manual training teacher in the Osgood School, is now an ensign on the United States navy.

Earle Higgins, who recently enlisted in the Naval Reserve camp at Hingham, having been at the Wakefield rifle pits, is now at Bunkin Island.

The Men's League of the Beechwood church held a meeting, with supper, last Friday night. Mr. Frank Allen was the speaker.

Miss Eleanor Wilbur spent Sunday with her parents, and Miss Ethel Lee of Hyde Park was also the guest of Mr. and Mrs. John Wilbur.

Howard Enos, son of Mrs. Inez Enos, passed away at his home on Friday, Jan. 19, at the age of 13 years. The funeral took place at St. Anthony's Church, Cohasset, at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon, Jan. 21, Rev. Fr. Capony officiating. Interment will be at Woodside Cemetery.

An especially sad event was the passing away on Jan. 19, at the Walter Reed Memorial Hospital, in Washington, D. C., of John Robinson, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John Robinson of Cohasset, Mass. (Mrs. Robinson was Mary Jones and a native of Cohasset.) The deceased enlisted just five weeks before in a branch of the United States service and was stationed at Camp Meigs, Washington, D. C. He was stricken down with pneumonia and died at the age of 36 years.

The funeral took place in Cohasset at St. Paul's Episcopal Church last Thursday, Jan. 17, relatives from here attending. Great sympathy is felt for his family in their hour of great affliction.

Mrs. Arthur Lewis (nee Mary Wilbur) of Akron, Ohio, is visiting with her two children her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Wilbur.

Miss Edith Clark has moved away to Berlin because of the failing health of her father, leaving Mr. Joseph Hutchinson's house on Border street vacant.

Miss Helen Hovey will be the speaker at the P. T. A. meeting Feb. 4.

Miss Mary C. Pratt of Needham passed away on Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Burton Treat, to whom she was a great-aunt.

For many years Miss Pratt taught a private school, having one at "Wayside," Nathaniel Hawthorne's former home in Concord, which Miss Pratt bought, and which she afterward sold back to the Hawthorne family. This school was near the Alcott home. Afterward she had a private school in Belmont. For 23 years she lived in Needham, where she owned a home. At the time of her death she was 86 years old. She was a Bostonian, the wife of Capt. William Pratt and had many relatives in town here.

Funeral services were held Saturday, Jan. 19, at residence of Mrs. Burton Treat, Rev. Mr. Black, pastor of Needham Episcopal Church, officiating. The beautiful flowers were given to sick and shut-ins. She is survived by one sister, Mrs. Josselyn, who married John H. Cohasset with Mrs. Paul Gilman. The interment will be in the family lot in Central Cemetery.

Church Services.

The three churches will unite for the next six weeks in the use of a single church building on each Sunday. The Congregational and Unitarian Churches will unite for a service each Sunday at 11.15 a. m., followed by the meeting of their Sunday Schools, each at their own quarters.

The Episcopal Sunday School will meet at 9.15 instead of 9.30, and for the next two Sundays in St. Stephen's parish house, after that for four weeks in the Unitarian parish house. On Sunday next, Jan. 27, and on the following Sunday, Feb. 3, the three congregations will use St. Stephen's Church, the Episcopal service being held at 10.15 instead of 10.45, and the other two churches holding their services at 11.15, followed by their Sunday Schools in their usual quarters.

On Feb. 10 and Feb. 17 the Unitarian Church will be used by all the congregations, and on Feb. 2 and March 2 the Congregational Church. This will allow the closing of each church for four weeks.

Sunday evening the three congregations and their ministers will join in a service, the ministers preaching in turn. The ministers trust that all their people will gladly enter into this arrangement, minimizing any personal inconvenience and taking advantage of these exceptional circumstances to register a step forward in fraternal co-operation as well as loyalty to our own organizations.

ANNOUNCEMENT

On account of the scarcity of coal the town of Cohasset has decided not to let the Town Hall for any purpose. In consequence since one Bros. wish to announce that until further notice there will be no moving picture shows.

Tobacco impoverishes Soil.

It has been calculated that a ton of tobacco withdraws more than a hundredweight of mineral constituents from an acre of land. This would appear to be an astounding waste of material, which must be of enormous value to the soil, considering that 75 per cent consists of calcium and potassium salts and 15 per cent of magnesium and sodium salts, including nearly 5 per cent of the essential constituent to all plants—phosphoric acid.

Be Honest With Yourself.

Do you really believe all that you say, yourself? Stop a minute and look back, and think. Are you sure of all that you assert, and have you a positive conviction concerning all that you put forth? If you do not honestly hold to everything you say, how can you expect others to accept your words? If you do not actually believe what you say, then you are unlikely to act upon it, no matter how good it may be. We need to be very honest with ourselves.

Bricks in Biblical Times.

The Jews learned the art of brick making in Egypt. We find the use of the brick kiln in David's time (II Samuel, 12:31). A complaint is made by Isaiah that the people built altars of brick instead of unknown stone as the law directed (Isaiah, 10:3; Exodus 20:25).

Chinese Postal Service.

Originally started by Sir Robert Hart as the customs postal service, the Chinese postal service has grown to big proportions. The Chinese use great letter writers, and something over $50,000,000 letters were carried by the Chinese posts in one year. It is the most extensive and the cheapest postal system in the world. The Chinese post will carry a letter to any part of China for about a cent and a half, whether it is sent by rail, or horse, or foot-courier.

Europe's First Artesian Well.

The first artesian well to be bored in Europe of which data are available is the tube well at Frezenoy, France, which was sunk by the French government between 1801 and 1811 in the hope of obtaining a sufficient supply of water for Paris. The depth is 1708 feet, at which level a profuse supply of water was reached, giving an overflow at the surface of 600 gallons per minute.

HULLONIANS' HAPPY HOURS

Mr. C. P. Weston is extremely ill at present writing with pneumonia, we are sorry to state.

The Fuel Committee went to the State House on Tuesday to report to headquarters the fuel situation in Hull.

Previous to that the committee had to find out exactly how much coal was in the town. A few cases of actual want was found and it was also found that no one had very much coal. Capt. J. T. Galiano, Charles McDowell, Newton Vinnies and John R. Wheeler comprise the committee.

Mrs. Carrie E. Mitchell, appointed by the National Council for Defense as its representative in this town, attended conference at Hingham and has been appointed to enlarge the committee.

Mrs. Mitchell attended the Plymouth County conference, held in Hingham last Saturday. She reported what had been done in Hull. Miss Sarah Louise Arnold and Prof. Dallas Adams were the speakers. Mrs. Mitchell will give a report of the conference to the Parent-Teachers' Ass'n of the Hull Village School at its next meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Wood and family motored down in their house on the Sunday and visited their home on the front. Miss Amy Wood was driving and is an expert, adding that to her many accomplishments.

We are very sorry to state that Mr. Bowen Tufts, who has endeared himself to all by his many fine qualities, is ill in the hospital, where he has been operated upon for appendicitis. We are glad to say he is getting along very well, so report goes.

Mr. J. H. Hubbard came to the rescue of Mrs. Sirach by loaning her the bag of coal he had in his cellar. It was much appreciated.

Mr. C. V. Antone assisted Mrs. Sirach in getting this coal, and fixed her oil heaters so she could be fairly comfortable in her office. "Uncle Charlie" is all right and has her sincere thanks.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Wood and family motored down in their house on the Sunday and visited their home on the front. Miss Amy Wood was driving and is an expert, adding that to her many accomplishments.

The editor of Hull East Wind is indebted to Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd P. Miller for a kindness.

The South Weymouth Laundry. Mr. Bates has entered into partnership with a friend in the grocery business at Wollaston.

Miss Emma Sturgis entertained Miss Genevieve Clark, and Walter entertained Dick Hudson over the week-end. The party had a jolly time ice-boating in the boat Mr. William Sylvester started to build and which the boys—Walter, Dick and Fred—finished. It is said that on a famous ride of 60 miles an hour Mrs. Sturgis held "the main sheet," while Walter held the rudder.

Mrs. Maud Mitchell, chairman of the Hull Unit S. A. S. A., received a nice letter of thanks from a young French soldier thanking the society for the comfort kit sent at Christmas.

The newly organized orchestra, consisting of the Miss Helen and Bertha Antone, Doris Ahearn, Carl Holland and Foster Gardner, are open for engagements to play at any sort of entertainment. Carl Holland is business manager and is ready to talk business. Miss Helen Antone, leader, can also be consulted on matters of business. It is thought that the orchestra will be called the Natasco Orchestra, in honor of the old Indian name for this section.

Everybody is glad that moving pictures have been resumed at Fort Revue. Will "Constant Reader" please sign name, not for publication but as a matter of good faith. Articles or letters designed for publication must be written only on one side of the paper. We cannot publish letters unsigned by own name.

The editor of Hull East Wind is indebted to Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd P. Miller for a kindness.

Tablecloth Tempted Deer.

A tablecloth ornamented with a design of green leaves until recently graced the board of a farmhouse in Dark Moon road, back of Allamuchy, N. J., and was the particular pride of the farmer's wife, Mrs. William Crawn.

One morning lately Mrs. Crawn hung it on a clothesline, and in half an hour was surprised and pained, according to the New York Herald, to see three deer eating it greedily.

Worry Is Form of Fear.

Fear is one of the worst enemies of our civilization, our comfort, and moreover of our efficiency. The whole trend of modern psycho-therapeutics, Christianity Science, and all such aspects of mental influence, is an attempt to overcome fear in people's minds. And the most important aspect of fear, of course, is worry. Worry is a chronic but none the less powerful form of fear.—Exchange.

Extraordinary!

"My young friends," said a member of the board of trustees, who was addressing the school, "let me urge upon you the necessity of not only reading good books, but also of owning them, so that you may have access to them at all times. Why, when I was a young man I used frequently to work all night to earn money to buy books. I'd wake up before daylight to read them."

Misnomer for Sheepfold.

A Western editor recently referred to a "herd" of sheep, and he was promptly corrected by another editor, who asserted that he should have called the "herd" a flock. Most people will be disposed to side with the latter, and yet, how are they going to explain the fact that the person who takes care of a flock of sheep is a shepherd?—Christian Science Monitor.

To Remove Rust Stains.

To remove rust stains from any fabric take the juice of a lemon and some salt and mix together. Rub it well into the material and then hang in the sun to dry. Repeat the second time if the first doesn't bring all the stain out. The second time the stain will all be removed.

Coasting Dust.

When a "coasting dust" strikes our atmosphere, its energy or motion is transformed into heat, from the friction produced by the air, and the "star" is literally burned to ashes. These ashes fall upon us in a continual shower, and constitute the greater part of what is commonly known as cosmic dust.

Difference in Bread Making.

Little Oscar called on a neighbor's boy one morning and was invited in to wait for his friend, who was not quite ready. The neighbor was kneading bread and asked: "Does your mother make bread?" "Yes," replied Oscar, "only she don't play with it like you do."

Girl in a Compo.

We often hear complaints to deplore the want of wit in our vocabulary, and yesterday, when a dear girl told us that she had received just the loveliest compe, we assumed our best society manner and told her that we hoped to see her in it before the day was over.—Ohio State Journal.

Jeremiah in the Pillory.

The prophet Jeremiah was confined in the pillory (Jeremiah 20:20), which appears to have been a common mode of punishment in his time. Ancient Hebrew prisons contained a special chamber for the pillory. This was termed "the house of the pillory."—II Chronicle 10:10.

"Cutting" Ship's Mast.

Instead of the old method of cutting trees for ship's masts by the use of ax and saw, a man now climbs to the point to be cut and the dynamite cartridges around the tree trunk. He then lights the end of a fang fuse and retreats to a safe distance.

"Coon-Cats" of Maine.

The so-called "coon-cat," which is common all over Maine, is held by natives to be a cross between the cat and the raccoon. Biologists ridicule this belief; nevertheless many half wild cats in Maine have the typical raccoon tail with short forelegs, pointed snout and long hair.

Room for Everybody There.

Western Siberia, between the Ural mountains and the Yenesei river, is capable, according to reliable estimates, of supporting a population of 800,000, 000, or eight times the total population of the United States. Already the huge area is supporting 9,000,000 out of the 11,500,000 that form the entire population of Siberia.

Almost Incredible Thinness.

Ordinary printing paper is something more than 1,000 times thicker than the gold leaf that can be made today. For commercial purposes the least must, of course, have just a little more substance about it than that, but it is a striking and impressive fact that only about five grains of weight of gold is required to make up the books that are in ordinary use today by gliders, each of the 25 leaves in that book being usually 3 1/4 inches square.

Greatest Crater in the World.

Besides discovering that "the valley of 10,000 smokes," as the vast volcanic area in Alaska is now known, really has literally millions of active vents in the space of a hundred square miles, and is the first wonder of the world, the exploration party has found that Katmai has the greatest crater on the face of the globe, and has also discovered a mud river 17 miles long—almost enough mud for a national political campaign.—Boston Globe.

Ideal Guestroom.

The guestroom need not be the best and sunniest room in the house, but it should be light and airy, and be so decorated and furnished as to be informal and homey. The ideal is to have a guestroom a little detached from the rooms which are occupied by the family. The bed should be the most comfortable bed procurable. It possible have twin beds.

Uses of the Howitzer.

Howitzer is the name given to a particular piece of ordnance which is of great value in sieges. It is a small, light gun, which fires a shell at a small velocity but at a steep angle of descent. This makes it valuable as a means of bombarding trenches and in attacking low-lying defenses.

Wanted Butter Treated.

Many got up one morning and found that one could not spread the butter on his cracker because it was too hard. Going to her cousin, Lillie, she said: "Here, Lillie, put this in the oven and make it easy."

Finding a Sleeping Place.

Robert wanted to stay all night at the place he and his mother were visiting. His mother told him there was no room, he'd have to sleep on the floor. "Hasn't your bed got a middle?" he asked his hostess.

That's So.

A laugh doesn't weigh much—except when it's on you; and as a rule a laugh has a good temper—for sometimes it is very hard to provoke a laugh.

Poor Chance to Retire.

About the time a man gets to the point where he can afford to retire he has to work all the time taking care of the interests he has built up so that he might retire.

Law and the Man.

He who tries to harmonize his conduct with the laws of the land will have less trouble than the man who thinks he can make the laws harmonize with his conduct.

New Pencil Holder.

For persons using pencils almost continuously a clip has been invented to hold one on the back of the left hand momentarily when the right hand is occupied for other work.

Correctly Defined.

A Russian applicant for naturalization papers was asked, "What is the Constitution of the United States?" "Rugged and healthy," he answered.

Homemade Floor Polisher.

When polishing floors make a thick pad of felt or velvet and fasten it over an old worn-out broom. This makes an excellent polisher and saves the trouble of kneeling on the floor.

All Have Faults.

Nothing will unke us so charitable and tender to the faults of others as by self-examination thoroughly to know our own.—Fenelon.

HOW TO FIGURE YOUR FEDERAL INCOME TAX

Single Persons of $1000 Income, Families With $2000,
Must File Returns by March 1

The Federal income tax reaches
this year the incomes of the masses.
Income as low as $1000 earned by mechanics, farmers, small merchants,
clerks, is this year within the scope of the law.

In round figures, every unmarried
man who earned $20 a week for 1917,
and every married man who earned $38.50 a week, is affected by the provisions of the new law.

There are two Federal income tax laws in force covering 1917 income:
(1) The Act of Sept. 8, 1916, which applies to incomes exceeding $3000 and $4000.

(2) The Act of Oct. 3, 1917, levies
a War Income Tax in addition to the old law, and it is this new law which reaches down into the purses of the average man and woman of New England.

The information which follows is drawn up to show the requirements of the "War Income Tax," which is so far-reaching in New England.

THE WAR INCOME TAX IN BRIEF.

WHAT
A tax on net incomes for the year 1917 of citizens and residents of the United States. Rates of tax: normal at 2%; surtax on all net income exceeding $5000 at graduated rates of 1% to 50%.

WHO
Every citizen or resident, male or female, who IF UNMARRIED received net income of $1000 or more during 1917; or who, IF MARRIED and living with wife (or husband) received net income of $2000 or more during 1917, must file a sworn schedule or "return" of such net income. Such person must pay the tax if the net income thus reported exceeds the personal exemption allowable by law, as follows:

IF UNMARRIED OR WIDOWED;
or IF MARRIED AND LIVING
APART FROM WIFE (or husband)
the exemption is $1000. He or she may claim $2000 exemption if actually supporting one or more persons entirely dependent and related by blood, marriage, or adoption,
thus fulfilling a moral or legal obligation.

IF MARRIED AND LIVING
WITH WIFE (or husband) the personal exemption is $2000, plus $200 for each dependent child, if under 18 years of age, or if incapable of self-support because mentally or physically defective.

WHEN
The returns for 1917 must be filed on or before March 1st, 1918. Payment of tax due for 1917 may be made when return is filed or on or before June 15, 1918, which is the due date prescribed by law.

WHERE
Residents of MASSACHUSETTS must file returns with John F. Malley, Collector of Internal Revenue, Boston, Mass., or any of his deputy tax collectors authorized to receive same.
HOW TO FIGURE YOUR NET IN-COME, which is the basis of Federal Income Tax:

The pupils from here who attend the Hingham High School were sent back
on Monday because of no school.

Mr. Burr of the School Committee says that they are carting the coal from the Hull Village School to the Damon School and will have enough to carry them through the cold weather in both schools. Sift coal can be burned at the Hull Village School, so that the hard coal at the latter school, 60 tons, most of it will be available for the Damon School. The committee purchased 150 tons last summer, and would have had enough to carry them through but for the exceeding and prolonged cold spell.

The Committee on Judges of the Corporal John Sullivan of Camp Devens took Sunday dinner with Mrs. John Sweeney, with whom he formerly lived.

John is an East Weymouth boy and was one of the first to go to Camp Devens. He was soon promoted to corporal. His friends here were glad to see him and glad of his promotion.

Mrs. Ralph Place has been visiting in New York for the past few weeks. Mr.
Place will join her this week.

Mrs. James Joyce and son, Elwyn, spent the week-end at East Bridgewater.

Mr. James Joyce had a surprise party on Sunday, when several of his friends came to visit him, the occasion being his birthday, which he had forgotten.

They took him out for an auto ride and cycling, and on the return of the party
they had supper at Mrs. Sweeney's. Because Mrs. Joyce was away the party was strictly gander.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sweeney are entertaining Mrs. Dora Reynolds and the Misses Ada White and Anne Magee of St. John, N. B., who came to Boston to see Lieut. (H. J.) Sweeney before he departed for Camp Greenleaf, Fort Querthorpe, Georgia. They arrived in Boston on the Saturday that Dr. Sweeney left for camp and went immediately to the South Station, where they saw him off, since which time they have been guests of his parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kelley have recently returned from a trip to New York. They stopped at Mrs. Kelley's sister's, Mrs. Mullen, in New Haven, Conn., on the way out and left Robert for a visit, stopping for him again at the hotel back.

Dr. John Sweeney has written his parents several interesting letters since his arrival at Camp Greenleaf. He likes the life and the country and is in good health. All his friends are very glad of this.

Mr. M. J. Whitcomb, who is making her home this winter with Mr. and Mrs.
Robert Kelley, has been entertaining her niece, Miss Anna McLaughlin of Somerville, who has taken several courses at the Conservatory of Music. Miss Mc-Laughlin has always been of a deeply religious nature and has entered a convent at Littleton, N. Y. Mrs. Whitcomb has assisted her in obtaining her musical education.

Mrs. Herbert Gent, who has been at the front line trenches in France, has written extremely interesting letters to some of his schoolmates, among the number Miss Alice Sweeney.

Miss Margaret Kennedy spent
week-end with Miss Alice Sweeney.

Mrs. W. F. Worthen attended the prayer meeting of the W. C. T. U. at headquarters, Massachusetts avenue, in Boston, on Tuesday, and also the meeting of the Ladies' Physiological Institute, at Tremont Temple, in the evening.

This club is the oldest woman's club in the state. Mrs. Worthen has been a member many years.

The serving of hot cocoa to the children of the Damon School by the Parson's Association at noon is receiving the appreciation it deserves. So far everything has been contributed, and $500 in money, which is a reserve fund.
Mr. Harvey, principal of the school, has assisted in serving. The plan is for the children to eat their lunch, then the boys go to the room and the girls go to another and drink their hot cocoa. Mr.
Burr made the cocoa two days last week, and Mrs. Worthen two days.

There was no school one day. The elder boys go to the houses, get the cocoa and the ladies serve. Everything is over by 12.45, dishes all washed and put away. The older girls assist with the dishes.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Worthen attended the patriotic banquet held by the W. C.
T. U. on Tuesday evening of last week at Ford Hall, remaining in Boston over night.

Mrs. J. E. Campbell could get only to Hingham last Tuesday week, and returned to Boston, as there was no meeting of the Nantasket Unit Special Advisory.

The Nantasket Unit Special Advisory met on Tuesday of this week for the usual work. The table at this Unit is always an interesting sight. The boys will be fitted out well, by the looks.

Owing to the fact that telephone communication could not be established between Mrs. Cummings, secretary of the N. B. H. White Club, and Editoretti Sirovich, names of the winners of prizes cannot be announced.

Don't forget the whist and dance at St. Elizabeth's Hall tonight. An auto will convey those who attend back and forth.

Mrs. James Dahne and Joseph Murphy are entertaining Joseph's sister.
They are treating her to the time of her young life.

Mr. John Armour is busy at work every day. He is a first-class carpenter.
Mr. John Joyce of the Gun Rock House is often called upon to serve a dinner for the city people who come down to look over property and the winter again. They serve a first-class dinner on short notice.

Smith's Tavern is another place where you can get a good meal and at short notice—Landlord, Baker and his assistants are ever ready.

Officer Peter Moylan of the Metropolitan Park Police force here has joined the navy. The ladies of St. Elizabeth's Guild have fitted out the young man with sweater, helmet, wrist-lets, mittens, scarf, stockings and comfort bag, and later the ladies will send him a comfort kit.

Mr. George Labell is at Camp Gordon, Atlanta, Georgia.

After the meeting of St. Elizabeth's Guild the delicious, home-made cookies sent to the soldier boys at Alton-ton. One of the boys said he had not had any supper and the cookies tasted
good.

Mrs. John Morton, secretary of St.
Elizabeth's Guild, read a letter from Rev. Andrew J. O'Brien, president, which outlined work and appointed the following committees: Mrs. W. H. Sturgis, surgical dressings and bandages;
Mrs. N. J. Guay, knitted scarfs; Miss Canary, comfort pillows; Mrs. W. W.
Reddie, comfort kits; Mrs. Mary Shaw, towels; Mrs. John Sweeney, Mrs. Frank Keenan, refreshments; Mrs. Robert Kelley, Mrs. James Murphy, Miss Gertrude Ahearn, Mrs. John R. Morton, for committees. Mrs. Morton will tag all articles and place them at the disposal of the various committees. Each department will have a table at which work will be done. The Guild was much pleased at the manner in which the committees were appointed and work planned, and will carry out instructions
of the reversed president, Father O'Brien.

A letter from Robert Winn, Y. M. C.
A. secretary at Fort Revere, cordially thanking the ladies for their generous contributions was read by the secretary and also a letter from one of the soldiers thanking the Guild for a sweater sent him at Christmas. Mrs. Morton also read the report of all the meetings
since the beginning, and these indicated that much work had been done. Tea and cake were served and the ladies
had a very nice, social time.

Mrs. Sweeney continues to carry off the palm as the hardest worker of the lunch.

Goldbeating an Ancient Art.
Goldbeating as an industry is as ancient and honorable as it is fascinating and wonderful. It is practiced in almost exactly the same way today as it was by goldworkers of ancient Greece and still more ancient Egypt.

Incredible as it may seem, there are well-authenticated instances of gold having been beaten down to more than the three hundred thousandth part of an inch in thickness or thinness.

Not Acquainted.
"Them newspapers," complained the politician, "are charging me with bowing the knee to Baal, and I never met the man in my life."—Boston Tran-

Hold Your Temper.
Get mad if you must, but don't fly
off the handle, is the advice of a sage.
When you express yourself others see what's in you, and as a rule see less than they thought was there; but if you are silent you have them guessing, and the chances are that they will think there's more in you than there really is—which will be greatly to your advantage.

Acquitted.
When a young man eloped with a Springfield girl not yet of age, the father of the young woman caused his arrest on a charge of disturbing the peace. When in court it was shown that father was asleep when she eloped, and acquittal followed. He did not wait for some time afterward, the young man was acquitted.—Kansas City Times.

Where It Hurt.
Little three-year-old Catherine white visiting her aunt complained of having a sore throat. She overheard the older people saying that very likely her sore throat was homesickness. So later in the day she asked what time it was.
And being told it was 9:45, she said
she wanted to go home because it hurt
her in her homesickness.

Share Your Pleasures.
It has been said that happiness
which has not been shared has no taste. If the pleasant things which come to you, somehow seem to have no taste, if they seem rather flavor-
less, perhaps this is the explanation.
Put gladness into another's life, divide
up the pleasures you have been selfishly enjoying, so that it will help two or three, and your happiness will have plenty of flavor.

Most Powerful of Snakes.
One of the most difficult reptiles to capture is the royal python, also a native of India, that giant snake that measures as long as 30 feet in extreme cases. This immense constrictor had in its wonderful coils the strength to crush an ox. A 10-foot python could shoot its head forward, strike a big man in the chest, fell him, and crush him bone from bone—and the pythons caught by the snake man are twice and sometimes three times as long.

Cause of Much Grief.
"What are your qualifications?" "I'm an expert egg cook, mum." "How absurd! Why, anybody can cook eggs."
"No, indeed, mum. You're making a mistake that's been the cause of a lot of unhappiness in this world."

On Good Authority.
"Daughter, do you think that young fellow is the man for you?" "Oh, I know it, papa." "How do you know
it?" "He told me so himself."

Founding of Havana.
Havana, or San Cristobal de la Habana, as it was originally named, was the last of seven cities founded in Cuba by the island's conqueror, the Adelantado Diego Valesquez, the date being July 20, 1515. Since that was 23 years after Columbus' discovery,
there cannot be many new world cities older than Havana, assuming that most of the other six in Cuba have since disappeared.

Hand That Rocks the Boat.
The underlying philosophy of most bitter criticism is this: The hand that rocks the boat rules the world. It is not an inexcusable basis for criticism, considering the stupidity and folly of the particular world administration we have inherited, but it has the disad-vantage of indicting a whole class and may just as well proceed from that irascibility which made a man a critic
in the first place, as from any ordered or reasonable consideration.—New Republic.

All Should Keep Books.
Probably the most expensive error usually made by our farmers is the failure to keep books that will enable them, at any time, to tell whether they are doing business at a profit or loss.
Many of our farmers can't tell at the end of the year whether they have made money or lost money. Should any other business be conducted in this manner, nothing but failure would be expected.—Exchange.

Pageantry.
Daisies and buttercups gave way to robin, waving grasses, tinged with he warm reds; the waving grasses are swept away and the meadows
le like emeralds set in the bushy edgerows; the tawny-tipped corn begins to bow with the weight of the full ear; the reapers are bending amongst
it and it soon stands in sheaves; then,
presently, the patches of yellow stubble lie side by side with streaks of lark red earth, which the plow is turning up in preparation for the new-threshed seed.—George Elliot.

BROUGHT THEM UP STANDING

American Soldiers Misunderstood Cockney's Announcement and Wanted a Cut of That "Pie."

Stories of the Thanksgiving day dinner which certain tea shops and restaurants prepared for American soldiers in Paris are still current with various as to how many turkeys with their "fixings" were consumed.

One of the best yarns is told of a party of Uncle Sam's engineers who had their spread at an English tea place near the Madeleine, where an elaborate menu at a fixed price had been advertised.

The soldier boys came early and ate steadily and thoroughly. Their persistence and failure to show any signs of faltering began to get on the nerves
of the little cockney waiter.

After serving the second or third round of dessert and filling the coffee pots several times he became quite tumpy as the boys showed no signs of their intention to leave the table. Then he had an idea—such as it was—he would suggest it was time to settle for their dinner.

"Py at the end!" he shouted.

Every American soldier was on his feet in a flash.

"Where's that pie, cockney?" they demanded.

But that waiter had started for Blighty.

Body Terribly Swollen Mr. Madara's Condition Was Critical Until Doan's Were Used. Health Was Restored.

"For six months I couldn't walk, I was so swollen as the result of kidney trouble," says Geo. T. Madara, 15 Mr. Vernon Ave., Pittman Grove, Camden, N. J. "Backache drove me nearly wild and big lumps formed over each kidney. I bloated until I weighed 407 pounds and I was a sight to behold. The water in my system pressed around my heart and I sometimes felt as if I was being strangled. The kidney secretions were scanty and contained a thick sediment."

"No one can imagine how I suffered. I finally went to the hospital, but when an operation was suggested I would not consent and came home."

"I heard how Doan's Kidney Pills had helped others, so I discarded all the other medicines and started taking them. The second day I began to improve and as I continued, my back stopped aching and the swelling went down. The other kidney troubles left, too, and I was soon as well as ever."

WAR SURGEONS. WORK MIRACLES

Incredible Feats Performed Every Day in Treating Soldiers on Battlefield.

NINE-TENTHS PULL THROUGH

Percentage of Losses Among the Wounded Striking Tribute to the Skill of Surgeons—Speed Important Factor.

French Front.—Almost incredible feats have been and are being accomplished every day of the war by the surgeons who treat soldiers wounded on the battlefield. These remarkable feats have increased in frequency, as the stricken men are more quickly gathered in by the ambulances and brought to the field hospitals for surgical intervention.

At the beginning of the war it was not always possible to clear up a battlefield of the casualties in less than three or four days, and on many occasions wounded men waited even longer before their injuries could be handled.

The result of this was that large numbers of the wounded succumbed from gangrene or blood poisoning, or were rendered so feeble from loss of blood that they were unable to undergo operations that were vitally necessary. It was at that time regarded as a satisfactory result when 60 per cent of the wounded brought into the hospitals recovered eventually from the injuries.

Nine-Tenths Are Saved. This percentage of losses among the wounded men would at present be regarded with horror by the military surgeons, who now reckon with perfect assurance on saving about nine-tenths of the wounded men coming under their treatment. During the battle of Flanders the percentage of recoveries among wounded men brought to the hospitals amounted to 80.

This striking figure was still further improved on the occasion of the recent battle in which the French wrested from the Germans the fort of Malmanson and caused them to evacuate the Chemin des Dames after throwing away hundreds of thousands of the crown prince's best troops in the effort to retain it. The French surgeons' reports after the conclusion of the fighting and the treatment of all the wounded show that 90 men out of every 100 brought to the hospital recovered from their hurts.

Speed Important Factor. Speed in collecting the wounded is the greatest factor in bringing about this progress.

Americans have had much to do with the speeding up of the ambulance service, for their ambulances have been present at every point where fighting has been severe, and their work has been highly praised by the army commanders. Americans have done much in providing hospital accommodation near the front as well as at the bases.

One instance of American effort in providing for the accommodation and treatment of the wounded is that under the management of Miss Kathleen Park of New York, at her chateau of Annel. There she has worked almost since the very beginning of the war. When the battle for the fort of Malmanson was in progress the hospital dealt with a considerable number of wounded, who were first bandaged on the battlefield and then brought down the River Aisne on board a barge fitted up as a floating hospital.

Miss Park has working with her in conjunction with the French military surgeons a number of American physicians, who all participated in the handling of the French wounded during the battle of Malmanson. Also, she has with her several American trained nurses and helpers.

Among the doctors is George de Tarnovsky of Chicago.

DOING MUCH TO RESTORE FRANCE

Americans Are Doing Wonderful Reconstruction in Devastated Section.

LIVE IN RUDE BARRACKS

Miss Anne Morgan and Her Co-Workers Share in Primitive Life While Carrying on Labors Among Destitute People.

New York.—Miss Margaret Stevenson, co-worker of Miss Anne Morgan in devastated France, has just arrived in this country with the first direct news of the reconstruction work already accomplished by this American Fund for French Wounded unit composed of ten American women. Miss Stevenson told of the 27 villages they have partly rehabilitated, of the 5,000 acres of land they have had cultivated, the hundreds of refugee families they have clothed, fed and installed in houses they have furnished; the classes they are running for children who have run wild since the beginning of the German occupation, and of the community center they have established at Blerancourt, in the heart of the ravaged region.

Live in Rude Barracks.

"We are living in rude wooden barracks built on the ruins of the old Chateau of Blerancourt," said Miss Stevenson. "Our barracks are furnished with the same unpainted furniture and plain iron beds that we give to the peasants. The heads of our unit, Miss Anne Morgan and Miss Anne Drake, share with us in this primitive life. They are up at seven o'clock in the morning, tidy up their buns, help with the dishes, and then are off about their duties, visiting the refugees, finding out their wants and helping install them in temporary shelters. Both Miss Morgan and Miss Drake speak French as well as they do English, and they have entered deeply into the lives of the people. Something approaching normal village life has been restored to the communities under the care of the American Fund Unit," Miss Stevenson says. "The French government has placed this unit in charge of the Aisne and Somme districts, both of which were systematically devastated by the German."

"Our unit is militarized and works directly under the French army," Miss Stevenson explained. "Through the military authorities, Miss Morgan has obtained valuable aid. Soldiers on eight-day leave from the trenches are put, under her direction, to help rebuild shattered homes and plow the neglected fields. There are no able-bodied men or women left in this part

DECALOGUE OF WAR

Dr. Anna Shaw Announces One for Every Woman.

War-time Commandments Arranged by the Professor of the University of Turin.

New York.—Here is the new "Decalogue of War," as announced by Dr. Anna Shaw:

1. Do not chatter. Keep to yourself the news you hear, your own impressions and your apprehensions.
2. Do not listen to slanders, to slanders, or those who would spread discouragement. Silence them.
3. Be moderate in your spending, neither lavish in gifts nor sordid in your economies. Let everything in your life, even your daily expenses, take on at this moment its true national importance.
4. Encourage national industries, avoiding imported goods, even though they may seem better and less costly, than those made at home.

5. Do not look upon the departure to the front of those dear to you as an abandonment. Be with them constantly in thought, as they are with you, particularly in the hour of danger.

6. Do not complain of the difficulties, annoyances and privations caused by the war. Think of those who are dying for their country, and complaint will halt upon your lips.

7. Multiply your utilities, in your home as well as outside, thereby rendering yourself useful to your country by the work of your hands, the warmth of your heart and the clarity of your intelligence.

8. Exhibit day by day and hour by hour the same courage a man shows upon the field of battle. Instruct the ignorant, uphold the feeble, console those who are stricken; transmit your own confidence to others.

9. No matter how long the struggle may last, await victory with strength and patience.

10. If you are stricken in your dearest affections, bear your sorrow nobly, that your tears may be worthy of the of France. When the Germans re-created they kept the civilians before them. All who were able to work for them they kept behind their lines; the non-producers—that is, the feeble old people and the small children—they have allowed to return. These are the refugees, the people we have to help make homes for and make self-supporting.

Wonderful People.

"They are wonderful too, these old people," Miss Stevenson went on. "They return to their destroyed homes worn out with suffering and hardships, but no sooner are they on their beloved soil again than they seem revitalized, filled with energy, and the desire to restore all that has been destroyed. They build one-room shelters for themselves from the ruins of their once comfortable homes or else their government puts up small, demountable wooden houses for them. These we furnish with everything they need to start home life anew—beds, bedding, chairs, kitchen utensils, and we supply them with clothing and foodstuffs. Everything that is sent to us from America we give them without cost, but the stoves and kitchen utensils that we buy in Paris we sell for two-thirds the cost. They prefer to have it so, and they pay any way they choose—in work or vegetables. The first thing they do when they reach their homes is to start a garden, and many of them have been able to support themselves this way. Others make their living by washing for the soldiers. These are all very old people, remember, aged men and women of seventy-five and even eighty. They walk from villages miles away to get help from us, and they wheel great loads of supplies on wheelbarrows some eight or ten miles over cobble roads."

"These old people who have worked hard and denied themselves all their lives so they would have a competency in their old age have to begin life again with nothing but their stiff old hands and their courageous hearts. They all regret now that they didn't have a little more fun out of life when they were younger, that they had not put off ease and comfort until their old age. But they do not complain; they just dig in and work harder than ever to make a home for the sons and daughters who may come back at the end of the war, or at least for the grandchildren."

Athens, Ga.—Two hundred and sixty-five students of the University of Georgia have presented a petition to the director of their "bannery," the co-operative Denmark Hall, asking that the menu be Hooverized in the latest approved conservation method. They ask for one wheatless day each week, three dinners each week with only corn pone served as bread and other edibles boosted by the food conservationists. The petition ends up with this injunction: "Eat the Kaiser on the bean. Sign this fellows!" and they did.

SNOW HELPS IN THE SOUTH

Planters Will Reap Benefit of Extension of Snow Line in South This Winter.

Memphis, Tenn.—Planters will benefit to the extent of many thousands of dollars as a result of the snow line extending far into the North this winter. Agricultural experts contend that where land is covered with snow during the winter months it is more productive the following summer. Freezing weather has extended to the Gulf coast and snow has fallen to the depth of several inches over most of the Southern states.

Conrad Thomas D. Davis reports from Grenoble, France, that the Grenoble district produced a medium crop of wheat of good quality; that the yield was slightly reduced by local storms.

HINGHAM HAPPENINGS

A joint installation of Post 104 of Hingham, and W. R. C. 80 was held in the A. R. Hall on Thursday evening, Jan. 17. The following officers were installed into their chairs by Everett Mann of Norwell Post and Mrs. Georgia A. Stoddard of Corps 30: Commander Samuel C. Cushing; senior vice commander, Ezra Wilder; junior vice commander, Jerry G. O'Hara; adjutant, Arthur Deak; chaplain, John H. Stoddard; quartermaster, Augustus R. Griggs; officer of the day, Alfred Lincoln; guard, William B. Lord; color bearer, Frances H. Littlefield; post inst., Arthur Deak; sergeant major, S. F. Sturges; quartermaster sergeant, Joshua Morse; president of W. R. C., Mrs. Minnie C. Jones; senior vice president, Mrs. Florence L. Lincoff; junior vice president, Mrs. Lucetta Perce; secretary, Mrs. Sarah J. Gardner; treasurer, Mrs. J. Blanchard; chaplain, Mrs. N. Wilder; conductor, Mrs. Flora Atwood; guard, Mrs. Mary McKee; patriotic instructor, Mrs. Elsie Hersey; press correspondent, Mrs. Cora C. Townsend; assistant conductor, Miss Alice Fearn; musician, Mrs. Josephine Graham; color bearer, No. 1, Mrs. Ada Keith; color bearer No. 2, Mrs. Florence Jeffrey; color bearer No. 3, Mrs. Amanda Bryant; color bearer No. 4, Mrs. Jennie Pease. A collation was served to "Post and Corps." Interesting and encouraging remarks were given by the following: Commander Everett Mann, Commander of Harbor Post, Arthur Deak, Mrs. Mary Mahoney of Weymouth, Mrs. Lottie Stoddard, president of corp 102 of Weymouth, Commander Samuel C. Cushing, Commander of Sons of Veterans, Lester Lincoff.

Mrs. Rickier has not returned from New York and as our office was without mail we could not stay by the phone long enough to get any news in that way. Hingham is doing its share in every way in every good cause.

Next week we will have a full account of the anniversary of the Rebekah Lodge, held Thursday evening.

Mrs. James Love was not well enough to attend the installation of officers in the W. R. C. last Thursday evening.

The Editorette states that the joint installation was one of the most successful of the kind that she ever attended.

Many friends here attended the installation at East Weymouth on Monday evening, among the number being Miss Graham, Mrs. Lincoff and Mrs. C. E. West.

Don't forget that the Special Aid Society will show the United States government films at Longing Hall on Tuesday evening, Jan. 29.

The Boy Scouts are enrolled as official messengers of the Committee on Public Information, in accordance with a request of the President.

DOROTHY BRADFORD CHAPTER, O. E. S.

The second regular meeting of Dorothy Bradford Chapter, O. E. S., for the year was held at the Chapter room on Monday evening, with a good number in attendance. The newly installed officers all performed their duties in a creditable manner. The Worthy Matron, Mrs. Nellie D. Jones, gave a short address of welcome. The Worthy Patron, Elmer E. Bickford, brought some important matters before the members for consideration and all were transacted in a business-like manner. At the close of the meeting C. F. Goffrey, P. P., gave an interesting talk on the war and exhibited some extremely interesting war relics brought back from Verdun by one of Hingham's brave young men, Mr. William Walker, who went out with the American Ambulance Corps and was wounded. Mr. Goffrey's talk illuminating and patriotic and well worth hearing. The Nassau Orchestra of Hull furnished music for the officers' reception and the social hour which followed. Refreshments were served, and "lights out" at 10 was rightly adhered to.

"Blue-Bellied Yankees"

The term "Blue-bellied Yankees" was a slang epithet formerly applied to New Englanders, perhaps in reference to the so-called "blue laws" of Puritan days. The term "Pennsylvania Dutch" was applied originally to a language, not to a class of people. It was a dialect or patois imported into Pennsylvania from Germany. Originally the term came to be applied to the people who spoke the language. The so-called Pennsylvania Dutch came from Germany, not Holland.

Giving the Lie in Georgia.

Chief Justice Hill of the supreme court of Georgia said in his opinion against Bullard: "All the judges of this court, being to the manner born, are willing to take judicial cognizance of a fact which as individuals they all well know, that in Georgia to call a man a liar, even without raising a stick, usually provokes a breach of the peace, and most generally brings on a fight. There may be exceptions to this rule, but they are rare exceptions, and find little recognition in our Southern soil and beneath our Southern skies."

On entering Miller's room one day his friend Pingley found him thumping the piano with all his might and drawing the most discordant notes from the instrument. "What in the name of all that is good are you playing?" asked Pingley. "I am trying to play that score of Wagner's 'Die Walkure'." "But the score is upside down," said Pingley. "That's true," replied Miller. "I had it the other way up at first, but couldn't make head or tail of it, so I thought I might succeed in this way."

No Child Too Young to Swim.

"No child is too young to be taught swimming," says Madeline Berio. "There is no reason in the world why a child should not learn to swim before five years old. In fact, there is every reason why it should. The children of savage tribes in the Islands of the Pacific learn even before that age. Some of them learn to swim before they learn to walk, which clearly shows that all our civilization is wrong in assuming that years and knowledge are necessary to ability to swim."

Authorship Long Hidden.

The Wherry novels were so called because the first of the series was called Waverley. It was published anonymously in 1811, and was followed, year after year, by other novels all published anonymously until 1827, when at a public dinner party Scott admitted the authorship.

Largest Ingot.

The largest octagon ingot mold which has ever been cast in the United States, and perhaps in the world, has been made by one of the great steel companies. The actual weight is not given, but it is reported to be nearly 140 tons.

Pealtory Like Modern Guitar.

The pealtory was a stringed musical instrument to accompany the voice. In the prayer book version of the Psalms the Hebrew word is given as "tune." This instrument resembles the guitar, but was larger with a convex back, resembling a gourd.

Sardines and Herrings.

Enormous quantities of very young herrings are caught in seines along the Maine coast. These are packed in cotton-seed oil and sold as "sardines," which is exactly on a par with selling chopped veal under the name of chicken. The true sardines are caught on the coasts of France, Spain and Italy and are packed in olive oil.

Derivation of "Hellespont."

Hellespontus, (naming the sea of Helles), is the ancient Latin name of the Strait of the Dardanelles, the long narrow strait connecting the Aegean sea, or eastern part of the Mediterranean, with the Sea of Marmara. The English form of the Latin word Hellespontus is Hellespont. The name is derived from the story of Helles being drowned in the strait.

REVENUE OFFICE GOES TO BAY STATE PEOPLE

Free Advice and Aid in Making Out Federal Returns by Uncle Sam's Deputies

Every unmarried person who had a net income of $1000 or more during 1917 and every married person whose net income was $2000 must file a Federal Return of net income on or before March 1st.

John F. Malley, the collector of Internal Revenue at Boston, who is charged with the collection of Federal returns and taxes throughout Massachusetts, has sent out a hundred trained Deputy Collectors to aid the people in fulfilling their obligations.

If you are puzzled over the requirements or over figuring your own income under the law, you can secure the advice and aid of a Deputy Collector by communicating with the nearest Division headquarters.

Here is a list of the divisions: Division 1, 2, and 3, comprising Boston, Cambridge, Chelsea, Somerville, Revere and Winthrop have headquarters at 135 Devonshire street, Boston.

Division 4 with headquarters at Malden City Hall, covers Newton, Medford, Brookline, Wakefield, Malden, Watertown, Woburn, Arlington, Waltham, Winchester, Melrose, Belmont, Lexington, Stoneham and Reading.

Deputy Thomas N. O'Keefe is in charge of the work.

Division 5 has headquarters at Lynn Post office. Deputy Collector C. J. Murphy is in charge. Lynn, Haverhill, Salem, Gloucester, Peabody, Newburyport, Beverly, and neighboring towns.

Division 6 headquarters is at the Lowell Post Office, under the direction of Deputy Collector Bart J. Shea. Lowell, Lawrence, Fitchburg, Leominster, Marlboro, Methuen, Clinton, and neighboring towns.

Division 7 headquarters are at the Portland Post Office. Deputy Collector Thomas M. Kenebeck is in charge. Brockton, Quincy, Framingham, Milford, Dedham, Wellesley and fifty other towns.

Division 8 headquarters are at New Bedford Post Office, where Deputy Collector T. F. O'Brien is the deputy in charge. New Bedford, Fall River, Taunton, Attleboro, Bridgewater, and forty towns nearby are included.

Division 9 headquarters is at the Worcester Post Office. Worcester, Shutebury, Webster, and thirty nearby towns. Deputy Collector Arthur J. Rutledge is in charge.

Division 10 has its headquarters at the Springfield Post Office. Deputy Collector John P. Hogan is in charge. Springfield, Holyoke, Chicopee, West Springfield, Ware, Palmer, and nearby towns.

Divisions 11 and 12 have headquarters at the Pittsfield Post Office, with Deputy Collector Frederick W. Otto in charge. Pittsfield, North Adams, Northampton, Adams, Westhampton, Greenfield, Gardner, Athol, Easthampton, and seventy-five other towns are included.

In deciding whether a Federal Income Tax return is required, and in figuring the personal exemption which an individual may take on a Federal Income Tax return for 1917, his or her status on December 31 is the determining factor.

No matter what your status on the other 364 days of 1917, you must consider just how you stood on December 31 in ascertaining whether you are required under the law to file a return; and if such return is due, in figuring just what personal exemption you may claim under the law.

The Newlyweds. If a person weds on December 31, he or she is considered a married person by the Income Tax regulations. And the income of both husband and wife for the entire year 1917, even though they had not known of each other during part of that time must be considered as their joint income. If it equaled or exceeded $2,000 a return of their income is required.

Couple Living Apart. If on December 31 a man's wife has left him, he is a single man in the eyes of the Federal Income Tax regulations. Whether a divorce or legal separation has been secured is not the deciding factor. The fact that they are living apart permanently, or that the intention of one or the other while living part on December 31 is to remain apart from the other, is the prime consideration.

A married person who is traveling or visiting, or living away from husband or wife without definite intention of permanently living apart, is considered a married person living with wife or husband. Their incomes are to be considered jointly.

Deceased Persons.

In a case where the husband or wife died during 1917 on any day up to Dec. 30 the widow or widower was an unmarried person on Dec. 31.

A return must be filed by the executor or administrator on or before March 1 if the income of the deceased husband or wife for the period of 1917 during which he or she lived was $2000 or over. The income of the deceased husband or wife for the period in question must be considered separately and the full personal exemption of $2000 is allowed on such a return.

The widow or widower in the above case is required to file a return if the personal income was $1000 or over for the year. And if there are minor dependent children the full exemption of $2000 may be claimed as the head of a family plus $200 for each dependent child under 18 years old.

Too Much. Human life is often painted as painfully meager and pinched, but one of its most common misadventures is regret too much, talking too much, drinking too much, playing too much, tempting fate too much by various forms of gambling—all these forms of excess and others also contribute prodigally to the sum of the world's pain and sorrow and multiply its misfortunes.—Exchange.
